

Womb Walks

Womb Walks are labyrinth walking and sometimes labyrinth making rituals that take place in different geographic locations where the members of the Gestare Collective are. Following the lead of Nané's birthday labyrinth tradition we walked (and made) labyrinths on each others birthdays in parallel time in 2011.

"As many of you know, the labyrinth has been significant to me in relation to re-claiming ancient women's knowledge lineages of my middle name 'Ariadne' – priestess of the labyrinth with her guiding thread that leads us into and out of mysteries of birth/life/death, through womb-entering the labyrinth's sacred geomantics of the Mother." Nané

We walk with the intention of supporting each other in placental wombworkings on these anniversary days of our births--the day we left our earth mother's wombs. We invite others to take up this practice as a way to support each other on the diversity of paths to be walked on this earth.

Gestare Art Collective
Barbara Bickel, Nané Ariadne Jordan & Medwyn McConachy
2011